Re: How to Discipline Employees Training Seminar

We would like to write this letter recommending Mr. Mathis for the outstanding seminars he has presented for us. He was able to captivate our managers attention and keep them involved during the entire presentation even though that is not always an easy task to accomplish.

Both of the seminars Mr. Mathis presented were set up with information tailored to our business. After both seminars our managers were charged and ready to use the new techniques that they learned during the session. He delivered his message with uncommon clarity, confidence, and genuine sincerity. The seminars far exceeded our expectations and we will consider using your company when we need to schedule more training.

Thanks again for your inspiring programs.
