Dear Dr. Mathis:

I have had the pleasure of attending three of your workshops over the last three years. I was very pleased when we were able to obtain your services by setting up a workshop for my coworkers that was specific to our needs.

Your presentations are packed with great information that can be easily applied in the workplace. Your teaching style is such that you are able to engage your audience and leave an impression when an important point needs to be emphasized. Your messages are clear and your common sense approach makes for an excellent opportunity to learn and grasp the information.

My coworkers and myself particularly enjoy your electrifying personality that is kind and down to earth. You have the ability to connect with your audience, capture their interest, and motivate others to listen and learn. Your varied experience and education make for interesting examples as you demonstrate particular points.

I am certain that we will call upon you again. I look forward to future training opportunities with you. Thanks for always doing such a terrific job!

Sincerely,

Rebecca S. Seyffer
